

MUSICAL SOCIETY MAKES SCHEDULE FOR COMING YEAR

Officers of Musical Clubs Introduced to New Men At Mass Meeting

Before a large crowd of candidates, John Streng, '33, master of ceremonies, outlined the aims and prospects of the Combined Musical Clubs at a mass meeting Monday in Room 10-250. The speakers were Harold Traver, '32, head of the Glee Club; John D. Collins, '33, leader of the Instrumental Club; Arthur Conn, '34, who heads the Banjo Club; Clarence Farr of the Technicians, and Omar Somers, '33. William Weston, Glee Club coach outlined the program briefly in a witty speech.

Weston encouraged the Freshmen to come out for the Glee Club with a statement to the effect that anyone capable of making a noise had an excellent chance of distinguishing himself. He stated that the members of the Clubs usually take their work seriously, but not themselves. "No potential Caruso", he said, "need fear the tryouts for the Glee Club if he can carry a tune."

Tryouts were held at the conclusion of the meeting, and about 60 candidates stayed to test their singing ability.

Traver Speaks for Glee Club

Harold Traver outlined the activities of the Glee Club and announced that Glee Club rehearsals will take place Tuesdays and Thursdays at five o'clock in Room 10-250. The first was held last night in Room 10-275 owing to the fact that Room 10-250 was being used by the freshmen for their mass meeting.

A.E.S. Announces Free Plane Ride For Lucky Man

All Those Who Have Worked On the Glider Eligible
For Flights

All aeronautically inclined students of any course are urged to join the Aeronautical Engineering Society by George P. Bentley, '33, President. Bentley said yesterday that, in spite of current impressions to the contrary, any member of the Society who has done a certain amount of work on the glider is eligible to fly it.

Membership may be taken out today in the Main Lobby, and after that, in the Society's office on the first floor of Building 33. At the first smoker, whose date is to be announced, a name will be drawn from a hat and the possessor of the name will be given a half-hour airplane ride.

Repairs Going On

Work is progressing on the repairing of the minor damage sustained by the glider last Sunday. It will be necessary to splice three or four tubes in the nose section, and to make a new rudder bar. Also, this opportunity is to be taken to paint the ship and make some minor improvements with a view to increasing its efficiency. It is hoped that it will be in the air again a week from next Sunday.

According to James C. Kendrick, '34, supervisor of construction, there will be plenty of work for all who wish to participate, and if the new members start immediately, they may get in enough time to make a flight when the glider is re-commissioned. The membership campaign has been quite successful so far, over fifty men have enrolled. The dues are $1.50 a year.

FRESHMEN EXPECT GALA EVENING AT ALL TECH DINNER

Prominent Speakers Are Listed
To Address New Men at Annual Smoker

ROGERS CHIEF SPEAKER

At the All Tech Dinner next Friday new men will have the opportunity of hearing many prominent men at the Institute speak, and getting somewhat acquainted with them. Professor Robert E. Rogers, the principal speaker, will amuse the assembly, speaking about nothing in particular and everything in general, he assures.

Among the other speakers, all exceptionally well qualified to talk about their respective fields, are Doctor Allan W. Rowe, '01, secretary of the Advisory Council on Athletics, who will speak on athletics at the Institute, and A. W. K. Billings, who is to speak on Technology publications. Especially for those interested in the Musical Clubs and Dramashop Professor William C. Greene will speak. It is a matter of conjecture whether Professor Greene will give an opinion on the recent attempt to revive the Tech Show. Professor Leicester F. Hamilton, '14, chairman of the Dormitory Board will speak on the Technology Christian Association.

Gym and Fencing Team Exhibitions After the speeches the gathering will go to the Gym to see the Gym and Fencing teams put on exhibitions.

Tickets, necessary for admission can be secured in the Main Lobby tomorrow and Friday.

This smoker is an annual affair, held as a means of acquainting the new men with the Institute in an informal manner. Freshmen should make it their duty to get in closer touch with the Faculty and the Institute in general, in order to make it easier for them later.

Almost Two-Thirds of Class Fail To Show Spirit As 200 Freshmen Hold Dull Meeting

Will Speak Informally At Technology Smoker

PROF. ROBERT E. ROGERS

BEAVER KEY SOCIETY AIDS IN FIELD DAY

Besides its duties of welcoming the various teams which come to Technology, the Beaver Key Society will lend this year a helping hand to the Field Day manager. The Society will furnish ushers and assist in running off the scheduled events of the day.

W. Clinto Backus, '33, secretary of the organization, stated that definite plans for the year would be formulated in a few weeks.

Removal of Pole Deletes
Field Day Flag Raising

The annual contest between the members of the freshman and the Sophomore classes, held on the eve of Field Day, for the honor of raising their class banner on the Campus flagpole will be eliminated this year. The pole, which stood between Walker Memorial and Building 2, was taken down during the summer because of its rotted base, which made it too dangerous to climb. Although the flagpole in Dupont Court was replaced when it was struck by lightning two years ago, the Campus will not see another pole in place of the old one.

FRATERNITIES HOLD FOOTBALL MEETING

Five fraternity houses have already signified their intentions of entering teams in a prospective Interfraternity Football League. A meeting will be held this Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Sigma Nu house for the purpose of discussing plans for such a league.

Sigma Nu, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Kappa Sigma, Phi Gamma Delta, and Theta Xi are the fraternities which are already organizing teams. The games will be played Saturday afternoons after Field Day in November.

HEDLUND DEPLORES LACK OF SPIRIT AT FRESHMAN MEETING

Less Than 200 Men Present As
First Field Day Mass
Meeting Begins

COACHES ISSUE PLEAS

Track Coach Oscar Hedlund spoke fighting words last night when he told the less than two hundred freshmen at the Field Day mass meeting that they had no spirit, that the representation was as bad as it was last year, which was very poor indeed, and that if they couldn't do something about it, the results would be similar to last year's.

He then followed up with an appeal for a few aspirants for the relay team. The sole ray of sunshine came when he remarked that he was going to give the Sophomores worse than he was giving the cross-fallen freshmen. According to him, "They're dead."

Asch Conducts Meeting

The meeting was called to order at five-fifteen o'clock by the Junior President, Edward L. Asch, '34, after a rousing greeting by the frosh of "Ham and spuds! Ham and spuds! Asch, Asch, Asch!" Following this, President Asch spoke a few words on the advisability of winning this year's Field Day, proving his point by referring to last year's debacle. He also announced that the section leaders would be elected next Wednesday and Thursday during classes — which

MEETING TONIGHT FOR SOPHOMORES

President Urges Big Attendance
Sophomores Need Peppy
Cheer Leaders

Tonight at the Sophomore Mass meeting the second year men will show if they can demonstrate a little more enthusiasm than the freshmen did at their meeting last night. Work in preparation for Field Day has begun in earnest with the appointments of the various coaches and managers, but until now the Sophomores have shown little interest. Edward J. Collins, president of the Class of '35, will preside at the meeting.

Samuel P. Brown has been named as manager of both freshman and Sophomore football teams. Paul Lappe, '34, will be in charge of the tug-o-war teams, and Harner Selvidge, '32, will coach the football teams.

Oscar Hedlund To Speak

Oscar Hedlund, head football coach, will speak and encourage the men to make a good showing in the important initial practice on Thursday. There is a call out for cheer leaders, and it must be remembered that they play a large part in the success of their classmates in athletic competition. Men interested in cheer leading are requested to see Edward Collins, the presiding officer.

It is expected that all candidates for the football teams of both classes will appear at the Coop Field after the Sophomore mass meeting for the first practice session. All candidates must bring their own equipment.

A BIRD IN THE HAND . . .

FRATERNITY rushing is about over for another season, and the veneer of glorious entertainment soon will be worn thin. The newly pledged man will learn that fraternity life is not one of receiving benefits alone. He is entering a group that will make his four years at the Institute more enjoyable, that will help him with his work when he needs assistance, that will give him social contacts otherwise closed to him. But the obligations are not all on one side. In return for the advantages of fraternity life he is expected to make certain contributions other than the merely financial. He is to take an active part in affairs of the house and to adjust himself to others so that life within the group may be harmonious. But in addition to the duties which a man has to his fraternity within its own doors there is the duty to contribute to its standing and prestige at Technology.

While the successful house is the one in which the men live together harmoniously, the standing of fraternities is measured by the standing of its members on the campus. The group that has a number of men prominently identified with undergraduate activities is a better house than one that does not, simply because more of the student body have formed favorable impressions of the fraternity through contact with these student leaders. Because this is true, it is the duty of a fraternity man to go out for some activity, and most houses make it a practice to require all men to do so, especially during their first year.

While the idea of having a man engage in an activity to make acquaintances and to get athletic, business, or journalistic training is a commendable one, the policy of blindly requiring every first year man to take part is foolish at best. Certain activities require considerable time. Some men have not the scholastic ability to carry on a program of rigorous study and active extra curricular work at the same time. Others are quite capable and should be encouraged to do so.

Activities have their evident values, and every man who can take part in them should, but after all one has certain classroom obligations which must be met first. In their programs to introduce men to the activities this fall the fraternities should exercise due caution. An activity man who flunks out at the end of his first or second year is of far less value to the fraternity than the one who remains his full four years. Rephrasing the old adage: A man in the house is worth two who flunk.

THE SIZE OF A DIPLOMA

GRADUATION is a long way off, and, even for the Seniors, the time when they will part from their four-year scholastic regimen and go into the outer world seems a bit distant to talk about at the beginning of the term, but we do not believe that it is too early to mention a certain aspect, or rather appurtenance, of the approaching departure.

We refer to no less than the Diploma. According to custom, the diploma shall be made of sheepskin, and, in order to contain the requisite acreage of engraving and Old English script, shall be at least a foot by a foot and a half in size. The supposition has been that the graduate will either surround it with a handsome frame and put it on the wall, or with a mailing tube and put it in the old trunk in the attic.

But in these modern and skeptical times, more and more future employers are asking for a glimpse at the steel-engraved acreage prior to offering a job, and it is somewhat cumbersome to carry around the square foot-and-a-half of sheepskin. For this reason, there has been, in the last few years, a strong movement among the colleges to modify the form of the diploma.

At one college, it was given the form of a small leather folder with the necessary certificate inside, somewhat like a passport. This would make things decidedly easier and neater from all angles.

We believe that this simplification is especially desirable in an engineering college. Employers are much more apt to ask to see the diploma, and more information in the way of scholarship and activities could be easily included in a folder. We therefore recommend to the Faculty of the Institute serious consideration of the advisability of modifying the diploma.

Now that the Lounger has started his tit for tat idea on the dumb rush men stories, the woods seem to be full of them. As a matter of fact, this is turning into a kind of "button, button, who's got the rush man" idea. At that, it occurs to us that Moses might be called the first rush man of history. The Greeks had a word for it.

The first that is brought to our attention concerns one of those Beacon Street establishments which is fairly adjacent to another Beacon Street same.

It seems that some of the enterprising boys picked off a rush man from the very front steps of the house where he had the date, and very nearly made away with him without being detected.

It also seems that the butler of the out-tricked house was in the habit of spending a great deal of his time in the habitat of the tricksters.

And so the stage was set for one of the neatest reprisals the Lounger has ever heard of. Butler of house Number 1 nonchalantly steps into house Number 2, unsuspected, right up to the second floor closet, in point of fact, and there, quietly but effectively makes an excellent copy of the names and addresses of all the prospects of house Number 2. Ah, Diogenes, where art thou, Diogenes?

In accordance with that well-established tradition of the rushing season, known as dorm-raiding, a large contingent from, well you know what from, were well under way on a desirable candidate. As a matter of fact, things had become downright chatty. They were just like that, if you get what I mean.

Things had even gone so far that discussion of fraternities was in order, impersonal, of course, you understand, when the prospect committed the faux pas of asking directly what house was best known for merry was-sail and hellionism in general, evidently with the implication that he didn't care for that sort of thing.

The embarrassed silence fell, the brothers were ill at ease, and eventually they departed, with the contact well established. But the beautiful part of it all is that this same meticulous one was only yesterday observed wandering proudly about with a Deke button firmly ensconced in the button-hole. Had your irony today fellows? We're raisin' hell.

Of particular interest today, so we are told, is the free meal available at the All Tech Smoker. Beans, Frosh, you can get that at any fraternity upon the receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and not much worse either, we'll wager.

The Lounger would like to call attention to the fact that, as vindication for the reaming the Dorm Sophs gave the freshman rooms while the trusting frosh were attending a compulsory mass-meeting the other night, the freshmen are planning a return engagement Thursday.

While the Lounger congratulates the incoming class on their initiative, he is afraid that they will not find the going quite so Soph as it might be.

One of life's little jokes has just popped up in the way of a man entering Tech with the lowest marx on record. He is the nephew of Groucho, Chico, Zeppo, and Harpo. Personally, the Lounger thinks it would be bad enough to be related to any one, let alone all four.

In closing, the Lounger wishes to call attention to his little brain-child, or maybe you heard it? It goes this way — "Did you hear the Roue's Song" — "No, no, spare me." — "You'll never be the same, sweetheart." Come, come Mortimer, enough of this idle prattle.

SOPHOMORE MEETING TO BE HELD TONIGHT

Second Year President Asks For Cheer Leaders

Work in preparation for Field Day began in earnest with the appointments of the various coaches and managers. Samuel P. Brown has been named as the combined manager of both freshmen and Sophomore football teams. Paul Lappe, '34, will be in charge of the tug-o-war teams, and Harner Selvidge, '32, will coach the football teams.

The aforesaid is about all that has been done, however, and the pep of both classes has been late in getting started. Last night's freshmen mass meeting was rather lively, but the Sophomores have shown little interest up until now. In order to revive the spirit of '35, there will be a mass meeting of all Sophomores in 10-250 tonight at 5.00 o'clock. All persons interested in being cheer leaders are requested to tell Edward Collins, '35, who will preside at the meeting.

It is expected that all candidates for the football teams of both classes will appear at Coop Field following the Sophomore Mass meeting for the first practice session. All candidates must bring their own equipment.

VOO DOO SMOKER IS HELD TONIGHT

The annual Voo Doo smoker will be held tonight at 5 o'clock in the Grill Room of the Walker Memorial for the purpose of getting freshmen interested in the work of the comic magazine of the Institute. There will be three speakers to address the group, including two members of the faculty, and they will discuss the past editions of the magazine and outline the work of the various departments.

Besides the menu which will consist of apples, ice cream, and cider, cigars and cigarettes will be passed out, and, for entertainment, a song and dance number will be presented by a member of the staff.

The first issue, which will be the freshman number will be on sale on Oct. 17.

"THE PIGEON" FIRST DRAMASHOP SHOW

Tryouts for parts in the first Dramashop play will be held tomorrow in Room 2-178 at 5 o'clock. Robert A. A. Hentschel, '33, general manager of Dramashop, says that there are both men's and women's parts to be had, and that no experience is necessary. There is also room for a number of men who are interested in the managerial side of stage production, and those interested in this end of the work should report also at the same time.

The play, John Galsworthy's "The Pigeon", will be coached by Professor Dean M. Fuller of the English Department. This year it is expected that two productions will be staged by Dramashop, as has been the case in the past two years.

Election Dates Changed

Freshmen elections will not be held as originally planned in the chemistry laboratory sections. They will be held in the chemistry recitation periods today and tomorrow.

Sophomores Go On Spree—Spend Night Cleaning Up

Ad unhappy ideas — that of the Sophomores who, with evil design, invaded the rooms of various freshmen Monday night. After a good old-fashioned "stacking", the rooms were turned upside down until their owners could not possibly recognize them. The last room to be reached was that of a certain transfer student who is officially a member of the Sophomore class.

The unsuspecting wreckers set about wrecking the room, when suddenly one of the enthusiastic rioters, with a horrified exclamation, held up a Sophomore textbook! Upon which "work" was immediately suspended and a palaver held. It was finally decided that no member of the second year class should be held up to freshman ridicule. So the now thoroughly sobered "stackers" spent the next two hours disgustedly "unstacking" and repairing the damage done.

FOOTBALL TICKETS ON SALE AT T. C. A.

Football tickets for the Harvard-Dartmouth game on Saturday, October 22, are being offered by the T. C. A. Ticket Service as an experimental branching out in its activities. Students who desire to take advantage of this opportunity must place their applications at the T. C. A. office before five o'clock today. Cash must be paid at the time of application.

The tickets are obtained through Harvard and Dartmouth Alumni, and are therefore in deferred locations. Students will be charged the regular price — $4.40, which includes the government tax, plus twenty cents at Harvard or twenty-five cents at Dartmouth for mailing.

FRATERNITY FOOTBALL

A meeting of representatives of fraternities interested in playing football this fall will be held at the Sigma Nu house on St. Paul Street, Brookline, Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock.

Several houses have already signified their intention of sending representatives to the meeting. At that time there will be an expression of opinion on whether tackle or touch football should be played, and plans will be laid for the beginning of play soon after Field Day.

Field Day Candidates

Freshman and Sophomore candidates for the Field Day events of football and tug-of-war will report tonight after classes at the field house. Football men are requested to bring their own equipment, if they possess any. The managers of the teams are also asked to report.

FRESHMEN TURN TABLES, ANNOUNCE
COMPULSORY MEETING FOR SOPHS

A compulsory Sophomore meeting under the sponsorship of the dormitory freshmen was announced on the dormitory bulletin boards last Monday evening following a freshman meeting held in the Hangar Gym under the auspices of the Dormitory Committee, during which a large number of freshmen rooms were disarranged while their occupants attended the gathering. Although the signs were quickly torn down by the Sophomores, the freshmen, indignant over the unfair treatment they think they have suffered at the hands of the second year men, are expected to organize quickly and work bodily in "dragging" their opponents to the meeting as the posters announced.

It is expected that the freshmen will not be able to secure the Hangar Gym for their "meeting" but it is not known whether this will automatically cancel plans. As one freshman put it, "We'll march them around the field until their legs drop off." A Sophomore, however, when questioned about his presence at the meeting, was quoted as saying, "Sure, we'll be there and we'll show those frosh whose meeting it really is."

FRESHMEN TURN TABLES
IN DORMITORY MEETING

was audibly approved of by the audience.

Following an official invitation to the All-Tech Smoker by the chairman of the Association, Edward L. Wemple, '33, came the first attempt at cheering, which was in the form of a "Locomotive".

The freshman posted a notice of a meeting in the dormitories yesterday morning, specifying compulsory attendance for Sophomores, in reversal of the usual form, according to President Asch. Carrying out this announcement, he added, would probably be quite another matter.

Freshmen Needed for Teams

Paul Lappé, '34, the tug-of-war coach, next came forward with a plea for candidates, mentioning the fact that the tug-of-war was no "kid's game"; that, in fact, there was a science in it. Another inducement was offered in that numerals would be given to the members of the team if they should win.

In persuading freshmen to go out for football, it was brought out that, since the glove fight immediately succeeded the football game, the players could enter this last event with the comforting protection of padded pants and shoulder-guards — cleats being banned.

A few more confident words by Chairman Asch were followed by cheers and another "Ham and spuds," and the meeting closed. The dormitory freshmen were requested to remain for a special session.

Unitarian Meeting

This afternoon at 4:30 to 5:30 there will be a tea for all Unitarian, Universalist, and liberal students at Technology in the Faculty Dining Room of Walker Memorial. The tea will be given by Mr. Gysan, the Unitarian minister to students in greater Boston. New students at the Institute are especially invited to attend.

C. P. S. Meeting

The first meeting of the Combined Professional Societies this fall will be held at 5 o'clock this afternoon in the new office of the group, room 5-328. All secretaries and presidents of the various member societies are requested to attend, as plans for the fall and winter activities will be discussed at that time.

CANDIDATES NEEDED
FOR CLASS RELAYS

Very Few Men Report to Try for Field Day Teams

Technology Sophomores and freshmen must show a little more interest if they expect the relay race to be a part of the annual Field Day games. To date but a half dozen men have reported for each team, in spite of the fact that twelve take part in the race. Coach Oscar Hedlund stressed the point that all candidates should report this week in order to prepare for the trials.

In addition to the possibility of winning their class numerals by running in the Field Day relay, freshmen have the opportunity to substitute track work for their required Physical Training course. Any first-year men wishing to benefit by this arrangement must sign up before Saturday, October 22.

Weight Men Are Needed

In addition to soliciting candidates for the relay teams, Coach Bob Bowie stated that any men interested in the weight events would be extremely welcome, inasmuch as several of last year's most dependable weight men had graduated.

Both the varsity and freshman cross-country teams are working in real earnest for the forthcoming meet with Harvard and Dartmouth on October 15. Time trials will be held over the Harvard course this Saturday for both squads, with the men scheduled to report at the Track House at 2:30 o'clock.

Varsity Soccer Men
Face Hard Schedule;
First Game Saturday

Freshmen Meet Dean October 8;
More Men Needed for Yearling Team

Those who napped to pass the Coop field last Saturday afternoon were doubtlessly surprised to see an enthusiastic soccer game spread over the athletic field. If these spectators had troubled to stop and ask Manager Thayer or Captain Kidde or any of the team members about the occurrence, they would have found that the game was, in reality, a scrimmage between mixed varsity men and freshman team members, and that the marked enthusiasm was due to thoughts of Saturday's game with Yale at New Haven. This is the opening contest of the varsity season, and the men are out-doing themselves to get the coach's attention, as the starting line-up has not yet been determined.

Busy Schedule for Varsity and Freshmen

Manager Thayer has prepared a stiff schedule for both the varsity and the freshmen, including meets with Yale, Harvard, and West Point. The following is the schedule for both teams:

Varsity — 1932

Oct. 8 — Yale at New Haven.
Oct. 15 — Dartmouth at Hanover.
Oct. 22 — Brown at Providence.

THE SPORTS DESK

In face of the present shortage of crew coaches, with Bill Haines, the chief coach, still abroad, in England, one wonders why Pat Manning, now rigger at the Boat House, doesn't take one of the boats that will be formed during the following week, and beat it into shape.

Pat has had a long and honorable career in rowing, and it is the opinion of many veteran crew men, many oarsmen who have worked under him at other institutions, and of many of the metropolitan scribes, that he could add something to some one of the Technology boats, something which is lacking at present, something in the form of a mature style, and more of a continuity in its training than it is able to obtain now, under the somewhat indefinite existing arrangements.

Oscar took his cross-country men up to Belmont last Saturday afternoon, and ran them over the Harvard course. Everything went fine, and everyone had a good workout, and came back to the Tech field showers to dress. In the course of the shower-room chatter, J. C. Barrett, diminutive captain of the harriers, learned that he, with the other six or eight men, had run in the neighborhood of seven or more miles, at one stretch. There was a sudden demand for cold water.

"Obie" O'Brien, husky basketball forward, was seen Saturday afternoon over in the hangar gym sinking shots from every part of the floor. "Obie" is certainly out to remain high scorer again this year, with practice this early in the year. And, anyone who thinks that basketball is a game for the weaker sex, let them look at the build it has given this man.

The Dorms come pretty close to realizing the professed aim of Institute sports — the greatest amount of sports for the greatest number engaged — as shown by the athletic schedule for the year. At present, Chairman Adam Sysko is opening the season with a soft-ball baseball tournament.

Maybe the freshmen will perk up a bit with this bit of news. Big Bob McIver, who has been keeping in condition by running, out on the field all summer, has accepted the position of freshman football coach. He will undertake drilling the yearlings as soon as a few preparations have been made.

Mac was the big triple threat of the Sophomores last year. He tore holes through the formidable freshman line as though it had been made of feathers. Coming from Princeton, with a creditable record behind him there, he will be a big factor pulling in favor of this year's green squad.

Ole Man Weather has been kind to the men in the tennis tournament, these last few days — excepting a few gusty hours. On the whole, the temperature has been about right for real hot tennis.

Oscar has been having his troubles these two weeks, in getting relay material out for the Field Day teams. Not even in the slowest year has there been so little spirit shown, as seems to be evidenced by the two participating classes this year. At a meeting of the Dormitory freshmen last Monday night, the track coach was received with a demonstration of enthusiasm which boded good, but apparently none of it was deep-seated enough to hold over until the next day and bring out any new candidates.

MUSICAL SCHEDULE FOR COMING YEAR

John D. Collins, '33, of the Instrumental Club announced the first meeting of the club and went on to describe its activities. The club will take part in concerts and presentations in and around Boston during the coming year.

An orchestra of about 30 pieces usually composes the Instrumental Club. Among the instruments included in the orchestra are violins, cellos, clarinets, oboes, bassoons, all brass instruments, and drums. The music played is chiefly classical. For lighter presentations there are waltzes and marches like "Poet and Peasant," "Light Cavalry," and "Orpheus," and operatics like Victor Herbert's light opera. Meetings of the Instrumental Club will be held in the East Lounge of Walker Memorial on Tuesdays and Thursdays, at 6 o'clock.

Omar Somers, '33, in a short talk made clear the duties of the managing committee. The departments come under management of the concert, publicity, stage, and business managers.

There are planned this year four concerts: the first to be held at the Franklin Square House November 1; the second, at Newton Center in December, and the others to be definitely announced later. There are still places open in all of the clubs, and men interested should get in touch with the club heads.

Freshmen Lack Interest In Managerial Positions

Although the Class of 1936 has, as a general thing, showed excellent spirit, a respect in which the freshmen are completely dormant has been brought to light. I. W. Malmstrom, '34, publicity manager of the Athletic Association, has revealed that to date only two freshmen have reported in response to calls for managerial candidates. This includes all the sports at the Institute.

At least thirty men are needed to fill all the positions offered to first-year men, so that the chances of landing a manager's job are very good. If any members of the Class of 1936 wish to remove this stain on their good name, they should report to the A. A. Office on the third floor of Walker Memorial.

Society glider when it cracked up last Sunday afternoon was Wallace De Laguna G. and not C. W. Sweetser, '33, as was erroneously reported in last Monday's edition of THE TECH. The Society has also announced that although the glider was built under the direction of George P. Bentley, '33, a large portion of the work was done by James C. Kendrick, '34.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

OUTLAW OF THE JUNGLE

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the great animal painter, Paul Bransom... inspired by the leopard's fierce fighting power and relentless hunt for prey which makes him the terror of every beast of the African jungle.

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies
... the mildest cigarette
you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, tho he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.
Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?
